

SANTA CRUZ TECH BEAT

The go-to source for Monterey Bay tech

Digest #335

Santa Cruz Tech Beat stands with Black Lives Matter, and rejects racism, bigotry, and hate. Despite our physical isolation, please support one another in a shared commitment to creating the most inclusive and diverse community that we possibly can.

Kudos to three local women founders:

1. Our Five-in-Five (ok, Five-in-Eighteen) interview with Cruzio CEO/cofounder Peggy Dolgenos is worth a listen. Find out how Cruzio has been helping the community during the pandemic.
2. Stanford is launching a FREE program for aspiring entrepreneurs this summer. Anyone around the world can apply. Monarch Media, founded by Claire Schneeberger, is an elearning development partner on this project.
3. OF/BY/FOR ALL, founded by former MAH Director Nina Simon, has published a framework for organizations to take immediate and long term action during moments of outrage and crisis.

THANK YOU to our newest partner: Western Growers Center for Innovation and Technology. I encourage technologists in our regional ecosystem to learn more about this unique hub that brings startups and ag leaders together.

If we can make the content of Santa Cruz Tech Beat more relevant to you, please let us know.

There's more so scroll down and start reading.
